Piet Zwart Institute

Takes over WORM Again

[<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pwn>]

A TV station that turns the old utopia of democratic media into everchanging, radical game rules; theatrical media designs; dance and choreography to take down copyright; a mixing desk for your own open source typefaces; code-poetical underground publishing; a hacked Nintendo with counter-terrorist game player tracking; a system for everyone to write on any web page; a mapping of, among others, the role of Schiedam schnapps in traditional West African rituals; a fully mechanical server that makes the web truly personal again.

The Media Design M.A. course of the Piet Zwart Institute at the Willem de Kooning Academy Rotterdam University of Applied Sciences is a hotspot for critical and experimental work with digital information technology. With WORM, it shares a philosophy of Do-It-Yourself and Open Source media. To find out what it's all about come to:

Opening/party: Friday, July 4th, 21.00-02.00 hrs doors open @ 20.30 hrs — free with musical acts and live performances

Continuing: Saturday & Sunday, 12.00-18.00 hrs
daily tours @ 15.00 hrs

Linda Hilfling (DK), Annemieke van der Hoek (NL), Maria Karagianni (GR), Ricardo Lafuente (P), Ivan Monroy López (MEX), Gordan Savičić (A), Michael van Schaik (NL), Salvador L. d'Souza (GH), Danja Vassiliev (RUS)
